MACHINERY ARRIVES.

Work on Shore Piers to Begin Within Ten Days.

Two cars of machinery arrived Saturday over the Pennsylvania lines for the Ohio River Bridge and Ferry Co. use. Another car filled with equipment for the company's work came in over the B. & O. and will be unloaded as soon as the implements can be used. An outfit for driving piling and several derricks are already on the ground and ready for operation so soon as the water subsides and uncovers the sites of the shore piers.

Although the bad weather of the past few days has delayed the quarrying of stone at the Little place up the Ohio, Contractor Garretson is confident of being able to send the first barge load down the river within the next ten days. By this time the officers of the company expect to have derricks, hoisting engines, pile drivers and other equipment in operation and if no unexpected adverse circumstances interfere the long expected bridge across the Ohio will be begun.

Cases for Trial.

Frank Koch, of Corning, in Squire McDermott's court has filed suit against Marcus Unger to recover $200 due on junk sold by Koch on May 24. The case will be brought to trial some time this week.

The second case was filed by the Leidecker Tool Co. and is directed against Daniel Hannan. Judgment is asked in the sum of $79.10 with interest from March 6, 1898.

THE PROGRAM

For the Entertainment of Grand Chancellor Ellenwood will be Completed Monday.

Active preparations are being made by Raynald Lodge No. 82, K. of P., for the reception of Grand Chancellor of the State Grand Lodge L. W. Ellenwood and other officers of the chief body on the evening of June 6. The services will be held at the Auditorium and will be public. Prominent members of the lodge and able experienced speakers from different points in the state will be present. Good music will be furnished by the Marietta orchestra and by a quartette. It is expected that the address of welcome will be delivered by Rev. E. A. Coll. The program will not be completed until Monday.

PRIVATE DETECTIVES

Will See Whether or not Marietta is Wide Open on Sunday.

The Anti Saloon League has its emissaries established here and is getting in its work, not loudly but effectively. In its crusade against liquor selling. Believing that the saloons of the city are not closed as they should be on Sunday the League has secured the services of three of the best detectives. These officers in plain citizens clothes will arrive in the city with the excursionists this morning and will keep strict watch whether or not liquor can be obtained from the dealers today. Any evidence secured will be treasured up by the League and used in the prosecution which they will instigate.

Placed Under Bond.

The three negro teamsters, Isaac Kennedy, Harley Scott and Arthur Scott, for whose arrest on the charge of violating the quarantine of Warren township warrants were sworn out before Squire Kidd Friday, were brought to the city by Constable John Bennett Saturday noon.

The men it is charged, crossed the quarantine line while engaged in hauling lumber from the smallpox neighborhood to Constitution.

At their preliminary hearing before Squire Kidd the men were placed under bond of $50 each to appear next Wednesday. They were able to give the security and were accordingly released. The people of Warren township are incensed at the little regard shown their quarantine regulations and intend to make an example of the three men.

Revision Committee at Work.

The committee appointed by the Washington County Fair Association for the purpose of revising the premium list was in session in the St. Clair building Saturday. The list was gone over in part, but much work will have to be done before the prizes for the different articles can be revised and put in shape for the fall exhibition.

A Story in Stationery

Oh, this by all means, as she indicated the new and striking RUBY, it is so brilliant, (just like him,) and then you write on it with WHITE INK, and the carries the reliable makes. So our hero provided himself with a box of red paper and a bottle of white ink. Then the young lady pleasantly intimated that such a beautiful letter as this combination would produce, should be sealed with WAX and stamped with an INITIAL SEAL. Here was more trouble. What color of wax? and the correct intimation came at once--GOLD. It would look so nicely with the red and white. "Whose initial should it be?" Oh, yours, as you write. "But which name?" She calls me Freck, but my name is Smith.
